

FAN – Football Association Number

Why you should get a FAN

FAN stands for Football Association Number. Having a FAN is just like having a PIN for football. It's your unique code, allowing you access to exclusive areas of TheFA.com, the home of English football.

For example, you will need a FAN to:

- Make Online Bookings for courses/events through the Devon FA website - <http://www.devonfa.com/Development/> - view the page 'Events / Courses – Book Online' <http://eventspace.thefa.com/devonfa/participant/s.aspx>
- Access Members Services from the Devon FA website <http://www.devonfa.com/MembersServices/> - this provides a range of services for referees, league officials, club officials, coaches and players.
- Access general public tickets online for England matches at TheFA.com.
- Shop at the official England online store – and receive advance notice of special offers.
- Submit your questions on exclusive live webchats with key England and FA personnel.
- Participate in exclusive online competitions and polls – only for FAN holders.

Please note, if you would like to get a FAN for a group of two or more people, each group member would need to be registered with a separate e-mail address. If you belong to a household which share the same e-mail address, we would ask you to sign up for a new e-mail address, or perhaps request the use of a friend's e-mail address for the purpose of acquiring a FAN.

Children under 16 years can be registered under the same e-mail address as an adult in their group.

If you are a League Official, Club Official, Referee, Coach or Player, it is likely that you will already have a FAN.

To get your FAN

Getting a FAN is straightforward and can be obtained immediately from The FA.

See overleaf for an example of the form to be completed which can be obtained from the link below. You can also use this form if you forget your FAN or Password, or if you wish to update your information.
